VALUABLE

TimberLands

And Mill Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber, desirous of disposing of all his interest in Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following lots:

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand two hundred acres, is heavily timbered with spruce, cedar and hackmatack, principally of large growth, and will cut about sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within easy hauling distance of the Magalloway river or its branches, which runs through the township, and Richardson Lake, which is entirely within its limits.

Also 10,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co.

Well covered with large spruce timber. Swift River and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in Town of Gorham, N. H.

Two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from the proximity to the Railroad, is steadily increasing in value.

Also 2500 Acres Land in the Towns of Albany and Stoneham, near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. The land is covered with thrifty sapling growth, timber, standing near Crooked river, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked River can be run to Sacarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into Stead Brook. The land is not all pitch pine, with a single saw mill on the tract, distance to the canal at Harrison ten miles; to the village of South Bridgton five miles. The land is valuable for settling purposes after being cleared of timber.

Also 425 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Steam Mill Company, the whole capital stock being represented by 851 shares. The property of the company consists of a steam Saw Mill, capable of manufacturing two millions feet of long lumber, with appurtenances, including all clap boards, shingles and laths. About fifteen acres land in the city of Lewiston, well located for building purposes, and thirty thousand acres of timber land on the Androscoggin river and its branches from which but a small quantity of the timber has been cut.

THE IMPROVED

for every description of sewing, imparted by a Family.

[illegible] HEADABLE MACHINE [illegible] the General Looking Machine [illegible] A. B. MOSES, of Bangor, who has been [illegible] Agent for the Howe Machine [illegible] Agency [illegible] Machine [illegible] Agency [illegible] Machine [illegible] Agency [illegible]

Even the Ohio Democracy have become ashamed of repudiation. There it was that the Pendleton proposition to pay the 6-20 bonds of the government in depreciated greenbacks obtained nurture and encouragement. It was the influence of Ohio and the West which fastened this doctrine upon the party in its last national campaign, and compelled Mr. Seymour for the time to take his place in the ranks of the repudiators. But the heresy has died out,—the earliest and most steadfast adherents know it no more. The platform of the Ohio Democrats, adopted at their State Convention on Wednesday, is as formidable in length and as fierce in tone as a decree emanating from the Communal Council. It favors taxation of the national securities, but contains not a syllable in regard to the payment of the debt in greenbacks. The conversion is tardy but significant.

The Spanish Cortes, recommence, to-day, a task which seemed nearer completion two years ago than at the present time. Bamipo's royal offspring was not more numerous or more shadowy than the line of candidates which have been passed in review by the Spanish Estates since the expulsion of Isabella. After all, it seems that the "orange-grower of Seville," as the Republicans contemptuously call Montpensier, has the best chance of the throne. Any other candidate on which the Deputies would be likely to unite would be a mere appanage to Gen. Prim, and they will probably be driven to choose between the son of Louis Phillippe and a Republic. For the latter, to judge from the assistant demand for a King, public favor hardly lies.

The Income Tax.—The income tax, so far as the House measure stands at 3 per cent. on all incomes [illegible] $2000, with a provise that but $600 shall be allowed for house rent. The 3 per cent. rate is carried by 115 to 78, and the $2000 exemption by 138 to 52. The great interest in the contest centred on the question of allowing no tax altogether, which failed by a vote of 58 to 129. The affirmative vote was made up of thirty Republicans and twenty-eight Democrats, the Republicans being Banks, Bankhead, Cowode, Davis, Fitch, Hill, Hooper, Hotchkiss, Jenckes, Kelley, Kellogg, Ketcham, Lynch, McCarthy, Moore, Morrill of Pennsylvania, Myers, Negley, Newsham, O'Neill, Ridgway, Shellabarger, Stevenson, Strong, Taffe, Trowbridge and Upson. The negative vote was made up of one hundred and nine Democrats and seventeen Democrats, the Democrats being Beck, Coffroth, Eldridge, Gibson, Holman, Kerr, Knott, Lewis, Marshall, McCormick, McNeely, Morgan, Pendleton, Sweeny and Woodward. The [illegible] lows than 90 Republicans voted for [illegible] against, and 28 Democrats for and [illegible] the abolition of the income tax!

General Hancock [illegible] from Sioux City, Iowa, that [illegible] nearly all the Irish agencies in Dakota and that everything seems quiet, and the future is considered as uncertain. He says: "My impression is that we shall have no trouble with them on the Missouri [illegible] general nature, if the Government [illegible] its policy of feeding them; of course I have no doubt there will be serious [illegible]. They will be more likely to make [illegible] elsewhere, however, as they can [illegible] on the Missouri. The policy of sending [illegible] representatives, men of refractory [illegible] would have a good effect to break down their influence with the Indians. I have authority to advertise a reward [illegible] $1000, (pay in horses) for the murderers of the family on the Niobrara river. I believe we may thus capture them and at [illegible] produce an effect of deterring others [illegible] committing like crimes."

The Coming Financial Bill.—The funding bill from the Ways and Means Committee will, as near as can yet be ascertained, create but one class of bonds—$1,000,000,000 at 4 per cent., running thirty years, principal and interest payable in gold, and exempt from all taxation except that of income. The new bond is to be used in taking up five-twenty bonds, beginning with those of the earliest issue. Mr. Schenck is holding meetings of his Committee every evening, to finish the details of his measure and will probably bring it in as soon as the tax and tariff bill is out of the way. There are signs that he will try to substitute the bond for the 45 per cent. bond in Mr. Garfield's currency bill.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal says "it has been ascertained at the Treasury Department that claim agents are advertising that soldiers who enlisted for three months and nine months are entitled to bounty, and urging men to give them their discharges. There is no such law and there is no probability there will be. Soldiers should keep their discharges in their own possession, as a valuable evidence of services and patriotism, or they may find difficulty in obtaining them when they are wanted. Soldiers who enlisted after July 22d, 1863, are not entitled to bounty, under the decision of the Supreme Court—non are soldiers who enlisted prior to that time who did not enlist for three years. No law giving bounty has been passed by Congress at the present session."

Detailed incidents of the Fenian campaign continue to engross attention. The Fenian captured by the Canadians at Trout River proves to be James Moore, who was born of Fairfield, Vt., a thirty-five years old, and has served eight years in the United States army, being discharged in December last. He was captured by two farmers, with arms in their hands. The volunteers were very savage towards him, and did their utmost to lynch or shoot him, but were prevented by the regulars. He was taken to Montreal on Tuesday, brought before a judge and remanded for evidence. Some of the crowd asked that he should be put upon his car and be shot at. Some of the women present threatened him with all sorts of violence, and the crowd were greatly excited. The St. Albans Messenger gives the following history of Boyle O'Reilly: "In 1865 or 1866, he was arrested in Ireland for organizing and drilling troops, and convicted and sentenced to transportation for life at Australia. After an imprisonment of three years he escaped, and took to the bush, where he lived on nuts, roots, etc., seventeen days, and then escaped in a boat to the sea, resorting to the ship of some friendly power picking him up. He was at sea three days, when he was picked up by an American whaler homeward bound, and arrived in Philadelphia in November, 1869, where he was received by the Fenians with demonstrations of joy." The statements of indignities to the body of Rowe, such as filling his mouth with crackers, are much exaggerated. They were confined entirely to heaping stones upon his grave, and this was done, not by the Canadian troops, but by the farmers of the vicinity.

Of seventeen editors who started the Paris "Marseillaise" last December, one has been killed, twelve are in prison, and the others have fled to receive sentences. Fines have also been paid amounting to 12,241 francs.

forth the advantages to be derived from annexation to this country. All this is in manifest contrast to the feeling which formerly existed." Ten years ago the open advocacy now so prevalent would have been resented, and social ostracism, or even personal violence, would have been resorted to. The change of feeling is largely attributable to the unprosperity of the recent confederation of the provinces. The Nova Scotians have been bitterly opposed to the Dominion scheme from the first, and the feeling seems to be intensified every year. Ultimately, we have no doubt, the annexationists will be successful.

The true reason of this great and admitted change in Provincial feeling, is the repeal of the Reciprocity Treaty, and the loss of our markets for coal, lumber, potatoes, oats, &c. Nova Scotia would be as loyal and tory, as she always was, if Pictou coal could be run into Boston free of duty. Dissatisfaction arising from the prostration of business interests, may take the form of opposition to Confederation; but this dissatisfaction would exist none the less, if confederation had never been thought of. The total overthrow of the scheme of the Dominion of Canada would not touch the evils under which the maritime Provinces are suffering and which are forcing them into annexation, whether the politicians relish it or not, the Union has nothing to do, to ensure this result, but to let it and defeat Reciprocity, under whatever form it presents itself.

The recent fire at Saguenay caused the destruction of a large amount of property, and plunged many families in destitution. In the midst of these misfortune an incident occurred which is most pleasing to record. A farmer named Protais Gouy, managed to save fifteen hundred bushels of wheat from destruction. The impulse of many men would have led them to have sold this when at the highest price they could exact at the moment. Farmer Gouy did better. He caused notice to be given after church one Sunday that he would distribute all the grain he had among his neighbors in proportion to their wants, and that he who had the means of paying for it might do so—others might pay him when they could, and as best they could." This was an act pronounced according to those old injunctions concerning charity, which are regarded in a volume now pronounced by many to be unfit for our school children to hear read to them. The account from which we quote tells us that "fifteen years ago Farmer Gouy came to the Saguenay a poor man—so poor that his friends had to step in and assist him; to-day he is the wealthiest farmer in the neighborhood, and in a position to return fourfold the favors received by him at the outset."

SENATORS TO BE ELECTED.

The fall elections this year will not only decide the character of the next House of Representatives, but have a great influence on that of the Senate. The terms of twenty Senators will expire on the 4th of March next, namely, those of Morrill of Maine, Anthony of Rhode Island, Cattell of New Jersey, Wiley of West Virginia, John Sherman of Ohio, Abbott of North Carolina, Robertson of South Carolina, Fowler of Tennessee, Grimes of Iowa, Howard of Michigan, Ross of Kansas, Thayer of Nebraska, Yates of Illinois; McDonald of Arkansas, Rice and Morrill of Mississippi, Williams of Oregon, Harlan of Louisiana, Warner of Alabama, Saulsbury of Delaware, McCreery of Kentucky, and Norton of Minnesota. The outgoing Senators are all Republicans, except Saulsbury, McCreery and Norton. The seat of Mr. Fowler has already been filled by a Democrat, and that of Mr. Grimes by a Republican. The Democrats will probably lose one Senator in Minnesota, and gain in New Jersey, Oregon, and perhaps one or two Southern States. In many of the States the Legislatures will be elected, for personal as well as for political reasons.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, June 3.

SENATE.

Memorials were presented from the Massachusetts Harbor-Commissioners for a breakwater at Barnstable Bay.

Mr. Ramsey, from the Com. on the Pacific Railroad, reported, with amendments, the bill to encourage the construction of an International Pacific Railroad in Texas. The bill contains no appropriation of lands or money.

Mr. Williams called up the bill to increase the compensation of census-takers, as it was impossible to secure competent men to do the work in the Pacific States for the present compensation.

Several amendments restricting compensation to partly settled territories, were lost.

The morning hour having expired the subject was laid aside, and the Indian appropriation bill proceeded with.

An amendment appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of wagons, teams, agricultural implements, live stock, seeds, &c., and for the erection of houses for the Indians on the Northern Superintendency, coming up, the Indian Quaker policy was reviewed at length, being sustained by Messrs. Morton, Buckingham and Scott, and opposed by Messrs. Tipton and Thayer.

The amendment was finally carried, 33 to 12.

At 3:40 p. m. the Senate went into an executive session.

The Senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of Wayne McVeagh of Pa. as Minister resident at Constantinople.

They then took up the nomination of Benjamin F. Potts of Ohio, to be Governor of Montana, vice James M. Ashley to be removed.

A discussion lasting nearly two hours ensued, in which Messrs. Sherman, Morton and Howe spoke in favor of confirming the nomination, and Messrs Sumner, Nye and Cameron opposed it, but without coming to a vote the Senate adjourned at 4½ p. m.

HOUSE.

Bills were passed issuing American registers to the barque Live Oak of New Bedford, and ship Agra of Boston, and giving captured ordnance for a monument to Gen. Nathaniel Lyons at Springfield, Missouri.

The bill providing a mail line between the United States and the countries on the west coast of South America, and granting a subsidy of $91,200 for every round voyage and mail service between New York and the ports of Valparaiso, Chilli via Panama, and other ports in the Pacific Ocean, was referred.

The bill to reduce taxation was then taken up and the final section was agreed to.

Mr. Schenck of Ohio, offered an amendment reducing the duty on tea to 15 cents per pound, and on coffee to 5 cents per pound.

The date on the first section was amended to the 1st of January, 1871.

Mr. Schenck stated that the reduction of the revenue by these changes would be $30,261,023. The increase of revenue on wines and brandies is estimated at $1,000,000, and moved the previous question on the first section. Refused, 68 to 80.

Mr. Schenck then withdrew his amendment and moved the previous question on the passage of the bill to reduce taxation.

Points of order were raised and Mr. Schenck withdrew the previous question on the bill and moved the previous question on his amendment. Seconded 90 to 22.

Mr. Eldridge of Wis., moved that the House adjourn until Tuesday, and commenced filibustering on the movement to delay action on the bill, which continued for some time until Mr. Covode of Pa., rose to a parliamentary question, and asked whether the effect of filibustering on the part of those who wanted to reduce the revenue, was not to prevent reduction.

The Speaker said he did not regard that as a parliamentary question.

Mr. Covode then went on with his remarks, commenting severely on the course of his colleague (Mr. Woodward), whom he accused of having been a tariff man at home in order to secure a re-election, and now voting with the free traders on all occasions.

The members crowded around Mr. Covode, frequently interrupting him with calls for information about "Ahab" and "Benhadad."

Mr. Covode continued until the Speaker said he was proceeding only by unanimous consent, upon which Mr. Kelley of Pa., objected.

Mr. Wood ward of Pa., then said that when he selected biographers, the person must be a man of truth, and therefore his colleague had no chance of being selected; and when he debated on this floor he debated with gentlemen sent here by their constituents and not with a man who stole his seat from an honest man, for the purpose of selling cadetships. (Laughter and calls to the regular order.)

Mr. Schenck, of Ohio, said he desired to report the funding bill, but he first proposed that by unanimous consent, the motion which he made to reconsider the vote by which the main question was ordered be laid on the table, and that he be permitted to report the pending bill, after which the House should adjourn with the understanding that on Monday morning, it would vote directly on his tariff section.

The Speaker explained the situation.

After conclusion that proposition was not accepted to, and the House resided into the dullness of voting on dilatory motions.

Mr. Schenck again requested Mr. Eldridge of Wis., to allow him to report the funding bill, but Mr. Eldridge objected, and other propositions by Mr. Schenck were successfully resisted by filibustering, and an adjournment was finally carried at 5 o'clock.

During the proceedings the Senate bill appointing Managers of the National Military Asylum, was passed.

CABLE NEWS.

London, June 4. The Admiralty begins three new iron-clad vessels at the Chatham Navy Yard immediately. One of these, called the Raleigh, will be of 5000 tons burthen, and carry 27 heavy guns, broadsides. The other two will be small, light draft steamers, to operate around the coasts and in the harbors.

Rome, June 4. Yesterday, upon the demand of 150 of the Fathers in the Œcumenical Council after discussion, the Schema de primate et infallibilitty was promulgated, and on Monday the discussion of Chapters will commence.

Madrid, June 4. The Englishmen captured by Spanish brigands near Gibraltar some time ago, have been tracked by an emissary of the Government. The prisoners were in good health and well treated. Their final release was only a matter of money and the Government has already commenced negotiations with the robbers, but the subject is replete with difficulties and it is feared that no result can be reached for weeks.

Paris, June 4. In the Corps Legislatif yesterday, the members of the Left having demanded the right of public meetings during elections for Council Genral, M. Ollivier refused making this Cabinet question the order for to-day. The Deputies who, yesterday, voted by a large majority against the Ministry to-day unanimously voted in favor, except the members of the Left, who abstained from voting. The success of M. Ollivier to-day, averts the expected Ministerial crisis.

A statement is made to-day, that M. Benedetti, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Prussia, who recently had leave of absence granted him to visit Paris, has received an order to return to Berlin forthwith.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

NEW YORK, June 5.

Captain Lennox, the Fenian who escaped from the U. S. S. Shoridan at Malone, returned and surrendered himself yesterday, and will be arraigned for improper conduct before U. S. Commissioner Bierhaus.

At the last advices from Rio Janeiro one-half of all the crews in that port had died of yellow fever, and there was no prospect of an abatement of the plague.

Up to 12,500 emigrants arrived.

Mrs. McDowell has been carried from the Centennial Hotel to the hospital. One hundred of the United States troops sent to watch the Fenians, do not remain, having been ordered in to relieve duty on the police.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

—Yesterday was Whitsunday.

—The young lady who is unable to spout talking habit, should get into walking habit.

—Ice carts have gone into the summer trade in earnest.

—Moonlight excursions will soon be in season.

—The night creatures—those lovers strolling by moonlight last evening.

—The new light that gives the warmer the appearance of having driven under a cloud.

—It would look much better if people who had deer to shoot would do it on some other day than Sunday.

—The rite of confirmation was administered by Bishop Neeley to sixteen persons at St. John's (Episcopal) Church, yesterday.

—We learn that shares of the Bangor Piscataquis Railroad stock sold on Saturday, for twenty cents on a dollar.

—The machine take base-ball bats to school with them now. It is feared they are more proficient in the use of the same than in the rules.

—A horse belonging to the livery stock of Mr. Henry W. Spratt, of Brewer, dropped dead in the harness, yesterday forenoon. The animal was valued at $150.

—Jim Billings says the mosquito was born of poor but honest parents, who lived in the fens—some of the best blood in the country. It is all enough to know this fact, as the trade for their annual visit is rapidly approaching.

—Capt. Flowers has shown us a specimen of the new Canadian scrip, "redeemable in provincial notes at Montreal Toronto or St. John," which is even of poorer quality—as far as design is concerned and paper go—than our own.

JAMESON GUANOS. The inspection and delivery of this Company, will take place at the Armory in this city, on Tuesday, evening, June 7th, at 7½ o'clock, by Gen. John M. Richards of Portland.

—A locomotive and tender for the Belfast & Moosehead Lake R. R. came to this city Saturday night, and were loaded on a scow-schooner, yesterday afternoon by a force of men, under the direction of Col. Higgins, to be taken down river to Belfast.

—A little girl, in these parts, whose special duty is to look after the products of the poultry, came in the other day, very indignant and said: Ma, I have lost all confidence in that hen, now, she just goes on and sets a while, and then goes off and cackles, and don't lay at all.

COUNTY LODGES. Penobscot County Lodge of Good Templars will meet with Lincoln County Lodge, No. 330, at Hermon on Tuesday June 7th. We are informed that free return tickets will be furnished those attending who go by railroad.

INDIAN BOY DROWNED. Young Sabattis, a contribution from whom we recently published, writes from Oldtown that a little boy aged five years, son of Stephen Stanislaus, residing on Mattanawcook Island, near Lincoln, was drowned last Wednesday afternoon while playing among the drifting logs. His body was recovered Thursday afternoon, and brought to Oldtown Friday. This will be a heavy blow to Mr. Stanislaus, who is now on the West Branch drive with Rice.

PENOBSCOT MUTUAL FIRE INS. CO. The annual meeting (adjourned to June 4th) of the Penobscot Mutual Fire Insurance Company, the following members were elected to serve as Directors of said Company, for the ensuing year:

Thos. Bowman,
Gorgo E. Jewett,
William Arnold,
A. G. Wakefield,
Charles Sawtelle,
Joseph W. Humphrey,
A. L. Simpson.

At a subsequent meeting held by the Directors William Arnold was elected President, and Charles P. Wiggin, Secretary and Treasurer.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES. At the Republican Caucuses held on Saturday evening, to choose delegates to the State Gubernatorial Convention at Augusta, and the District Congressional Convention, in this city, the following gentlemen were chosen:

STATE CONVENTION.

Ward 1—Josh W. Palmer, Geo. W. Smith, Robt. Davis, Dexter Andrews.
Ward 2—C. P. Brown, Solomon Parsons, A. L. Simpson, A. E. Hardy.

Ward 7—H. G. Hinman, S. C. Hall, J. F. Snow, John F. Pratt.

—Worms are making serious ravages upon the currant bushes in this vicinity. Immediate measures should be taken to repel the "varmints" or the crop of currants will be light. The only way to relieve the bushes is to crush each worm. They thrive on smoke, and ordinary precautions have no effect upon them.

—We understand that the Band contemplate giving out door concerts the present summer, the first one to be some evening this week. We presume our citizens will be called upon to make a sub'cription to reward the band for such service.

FIRE IN BREWER. Saturday morning, about half past 2 o'clock, Mr. Dudley F. Oakes, who was watching in his shop yard in Brewer, noticed two young men running from the direction of Mr. A. A. Holton's carriage manufactory, in the rear of the Town Hall, and a moment afterwards, he saw a light in the work shop on the lower floor of the manufactory. He immediately gave the alarm; and the fire department and citizens turned out promptly; but it was in vain to attempt to stay the flames, as the shop was a two story frame building, with quite an amount of dry stock in it, and it was burned to the ground, together with six carriages in the paint shop. One of the steamers went over from this city, and by the combined efforts of the firemen and citizens, the blacksmith shop of Holton's establishment and the dwelling of Mr. Sweet, situated close by the burning building, were saved. Mr. Holton estimates his loss at $4,000. There was no insurance on the building, stock and tools of $2000. Mr. Hezekiah and another employee, whose name we did not learn, lost all their wood-working tools in the shop. This is the second time that Mr. Holton and Hezekiah have met with a loss of this kind.

THE DROUGHT. The hot and dry weather, beginning to tell up on the crops, and unless we have immediate rain, the damage will be great. Saturday at noon, the mercury in the shade indicated 90 degrees, and yesterday, 96. The lumbering interest is suffering also. We learn that White, Hodgdon & Wilder's crew have abandoned their drive, and about one hundred millions feet of logs, on Telly, will remain on the West Branch of the Penobscot, and arrived high water Saturday.—A Schoodic Lake on the West Branch, a drive of about fifteen millions is in danger of being hung up, and can only be saved by a very rain fall. A drive of seventy-eight millions feet is hung up on the Mattawamkeag and probably others have shared the same fate.

—Rockland is to have gas soon, and a new street sprinkler.

—Leighton & Drake, of Rockland, during the months of March, April and May have shipped to Boston and Portland one hundred and one hundred and four lobsters, say their Gazette.

—Hon. Nath. Farwell has been elected director of the Knox and Lincoln Railroad.

—The Telegraph says that an English Bible, dated 1740, was dug out in a good state of preservation in the dirt, when excavations were made to remove McLellan's Hall, at Brunswick.

—A writer in the Rockland Gazette urges that a new bell be fixed for Lighthold connected with the Lime Rock Rail-road.

—George Besse of Norway was badly injured Sunday week by the overturning of a carriage in which he was riding.

—The Telegraph says that Mr. Charles P. Cobb was badly injured last week, by a premature explosion of powder with which he was about to charge a hole in the lateral property at Bangor. It is possible he may lose the sight of one eye.

—A Waterville physician informs the Lewiston Journal that of the dead in that village, of aged persons who have recently met with accident that resulted in fracture of the limbone.

—The Augusta Journal says that D. W. Morey, of Morrill, has a wind-mill which cuts 75 cords of wood in a year.

—The laying of the iron of the Belfast and Moosehead Lake Railroad began at Belfast day, with appropriate ceremonies. The first spike was driven by the Ladies' Directress. It is expected that the road will be completed in the three months.

—Mr. Peter Berry says that a [illegible] Penobscot Militia Anthem, [illegible] Mr. Berry is engaged [illegible] and he has music in two places.

—The [illegible] company of young ladies [illegible] and bonfires on the [illegible] Rockport Herald.

BANGOR PRODUCE MARKET.

SATURDAY, June 4th, 1870.

The following report is obtained by us this day on examination of the market, and the quotations are the prices paid for produce from the country dealers this day, or about the average for the week past:

The weather for the past week has been delightful, and some of the market has been pretty well filled with teams. Could greater prices be paid for produce, or for potatoes in particular, our market would be well filled up—there would be no room for us.

HAY—Loose hay is sold at from $15 to $17 and $18 per ton, for the best qualities brought in the market, and the inferior grades as from $10 to $14, according to quality.

STRAW—Sells loose at from $8 to $10 per ton.

OATS are worth from 65 to 70 cents per bushel, and some very extra loads have sold at 72 cents.

BARLEY is worth from 85 to 90 cents, and occasionally an extra lot sells at 95 cents per bushel.

BEANS—Yellow-eyed beans, hand-picked, clean and nice, are worth $2.25, and extra pea-beans from $3.50 to $3.60 per bushel.

BUTTER is now coming in quite plenty, and the prices obtained for it depend upon the nice conditions and quality of the articles, as the butter will hardly sell, at any price, which should quote it to-day at from 22 to 26 cents.

EGGS have sold this week at from 17 to 18 cents per dozen.

POTATOES have sold to-day at from 40 to 45 cents per bushel.

—The ultramontanists deny that they intend to withdraw from Œcumenical Council after the proclamation of the infallibility dogma. The deliberations of the Council have been interrupted by the feast of Gregory the XVI, who died in June, 1846. The session will be resumed next Thursday. The Carmelite monk, Hatzel, summoned to Rome to explain his defense of Dollinger, refuses to retract, and is kept under close surveillance.

The great race at Prospect Park, Thursday afternoon for $3,000, was won by the Goldsmith Maid in three straight heats, beating the American Girl and Geo. Wilkes, the latter taking the second money. Time, 2:23¼, 2:22, 2:24½. The 2:30 race for $1,500 was won by Patchen Chief, beating Prince Second, Tom Y., Carroll, Lucina Queen and Ben Goldsmith. Previous to the race Patchen was sold to Mr. Adams of New York, for $16,000.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs have resolved against subsidies in any form, money or lands, to ocean telegraph lines.

A train of 23 cars filled with strawberries arrived in Chicago, Thursday night, over the Illinois Central. The whole cargo weighed over 16 tons.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

Stone & Murray's Circus will exhibit in Bangor July second and fourth. Then in Oldtown, Dexter, Newport, Rockport, Belfast Thursday 7th, Camden, Rockland, Machias, Eastport, Calais and all principal towns in Maine.

DEATH IN THE NILE.

When at last the boat settled the Syrian plunged into the stream, and his head well above it, struck ou shore at a point where he saw shelv to the water's edge, fringed with long Strong as the current was, he breaste cessfully, and was reaching shoal water a heart full of rejoicing and thanks for his preservation and rebounding fr late, despair—when suddenly, he say surprise, a dark object resembling a floating from the muddy brink toward As there was no current from the s struck him as strange; but his surp changed into horror when the object approached nearer, disclosing to his gaze the bright eyes, the scaly back and shapely bulk of the crocodile. Most of all the tenants of that slimy flood he but rarely seen so low down in the ri the monster moved through the water movement indicating that vast pro power in its short, fore-arms and fe tail—lashing the river into foam a upward—Daoud could distinguish its about 60 feet above the place and the glittering serpent-like eyes fixed on th next prey.

Each second brought the fell mon on the man, while the huge jaws would ominously open, displaying the sharp row of glistening teeth which, when it was close again with a snap like that of instances, resounding through the ec lamentable and deadly was its power well knew; but he, too, had his nerves, steeled to danger in its most ful shape during the recent fray, didn't him now. But not for an instant, at the new and horrible form of the peril, thus suddenly confronted him at the very moment of his fancied escape all his danger; just when he was in his good resolves for a tranquil future, or before had he encountered this desperate foe ster; but he knew its nature and habits well: for he had often heard Arab of the river tell of their encounters with dreadful stories over; and he therefore understood which way the path of safety lay. He saw the greedy monster to approach, with lengths of him—simply floating him self surface of the water, and a wary eye to every movement of his adversary. The knew would be speedy and certain, if he waited until he could see the very jaws of its hungry eye—then dived down under it, his dagger bare in his right hand.

The moment after, the huge bulk of crocodile seemed convulsed with a pang as it abruptly twisted itself round ing the water into foam with its tail and snapping his jaws fiercely around while its snaky eye darted flashes of fire. Then it sullenly sunk under the water to the calm moonlight, shone on the spot, ripples showing to form of diminishing circles agitated surface. But the body of the crocodile had sunk was discolored with a red stain, which showed the Syrian's dag found a vulnerable spot. He had dived beneath the scaly armor which protected them above, and struck with unerring Next moment the man rose again to the face, twenty yards further down stream struck out vigorously for the shore, but durient seized and bore him still deeper down. And on it floated, in pursuit, wounded, but not disabled, enemy—and more savage from its injury, and dreading now those vast energies hidden and cumbrous, and mail-clad carcass. Daoud been on the very verge of being seized, crushed between those mighty jaws—and vainly snapped together like the huge portcullis of some feudal castle—did he escape destruction by suddenly diving. And thrice did he stab with his keen poniard into the unprotected flesh of his antagonist's forearm; while deeper grew the crimson waters as the great vital energies of the ponderous still sustained it under the wounds of its desperate antagonist—while human intelligence, skill and courage were war against its superior strength.

At length it seemed human intellect, backed by courage, was destined to conquer brute force—even in a conflict apparently equal as this, for, after the third plunge huge, scaly bulk seemed to float unresistingly upon the water; while the quiver and with the life-tide ebbing from the wounds, and the dim eye alone no more irate, but had an almost human expression agony and despair lurking in its dying glazing orbs. The crocodile was quite still—his well-nigh struggling in death-throes the mighty frame seemed contracted and relaxed with that near approach of the last spasm. The man was nowhere to be seen; but then panting, worn, exhausted about a hundred Daoud, the dagger in his hand, rose to the surface but a few yards from it under which a yard of the almost vanquished monster. The scaly thing saw him, and with a last effort of expiring energy, struck out wildly with his strong tail. It fell, like a flail, on the head of the Syrian, stretching him senseless and unconscious beside his enemy! The next moment the dying crocodile twisted his body convulsively, opened its mighty jaws with a last convulsive effort—and when they closed upon them was the writhing body of the Syrian! caught as in some gigantic vice, with crushed bone, muscle, sinew, and blood one undistinguishable mass! And long and tight in the death-spasm those jaws never closed again. But the scaly bulk of the crocodile bearing in its dead jaw the corpse of its destroyer, floated down the current of the Nile, under the still moonlight, to the spot which was to retain the relics of both until the hour shall come when the sea shall give up its dead.

THE DOINGS OF AN EASTERN DESPERADO.—His Results Arrest and is Shot Dead. In Springfield, Illinois, last Saturday, there occurred one of those terrible tragedies of which brief telegraphic mention has been made at one time so common in that section, but which of late years have been few and far between. It appears that a few days prior to the culmination of the tragedy a party of men were engaged in surveying a route through Sangamon field for a proposed railroad. When they reached the premises of a Mrs. Bancroft in the southwest part of the city, her son, named Coburn Bancroft, aged about twenty-three years, becoming desperate at the thought that his mother's property was to be taken for railroad purposes, fired a revolver at the surveyors two or three occasions but without effect. A warrant was sworn out, and a body of the police men started for the purpose of arresting young Bancroft, which fact coming to his knowledge, he procured a revolver and a hatchet, and stationing himself in his parents house defied the officers to arrest him, saying he would not be taken alive. After parleying with the desperado all the afternoon, and failing to get him at a disadvantage, the police were compelled to depart without effecting their object. Thus matters stood when, on the fatal Saturday, Louis Southey, a local editor of the State Register, desirous of getting at young Bancroft's version of the affair, proceeded to the Bancroft domicile for the purpose of "interviewing" the desperado. His enterprise was fully rewarded. Before reaching the house, the mother of the young man came out and met Mr. Southey, who at once made known his errand. Mrs. Bancroft advised him that her son was dangerous, and had better depart. He turned to do so, but had not proceeded far when, hearing a noise, he faced about, and as he did so discovered young Bancroft in swift pursuit. On asking the latter what he wanted, he replied that he wished to kill him. Southey started off on a run, when Bancroft shot him in the arm, inflicting a severe wound. This news spread like wild-fire, and created considerable excitement in the city. A No. 1 mounted force was made to capture the desperate man, however, and at three o'clock the same afternoon he left his impromptu fortress, and mounting a horse after one of the railroad party named McClure, commenced throwing at him the head of a brick-layer's plumb, to which was attached a long cord, and as he threw it he marked its return by holding on the cord.

DEATH IN THE NILE.

When at last the boat settled the Syrian plunged into the stream, and his head well above it, struck ou shore at a point where he saw shelv to the water's edge, fringed with long Strong as the current was, he breaste cessfully, and was reaching shoal water a heart full of rejoicing and thanks for his preservation and rebounding fr late, despair—when suddenly, he say surprise, a dark object resembling a floating from the muddy brink toward As there was no current from the s struck him as strange; but his surp changed into horror when the object approached nearer, disclosing to his gaze the bright eyes, the scaly back and shapely bulk of the crocodile. Most of all the tenants of that slimy flood he but rarely seen so low down in the ri the monster moved through the water movement indicating that vast pro power in its short, fore-arms and fe tail—lashing the river into foam a upward—Daoud could distinguish its about 60 feet above the place and the glittering serpent-like eyes fixed on th next prey.

Each second brought the fell mon on the man, while the huge jaws would ominously open, displaying the sharp row of glistening teeth which, when it was close again with a snap like that of instances, resounding through the ec lamentable and deadly was its power well knew; but he, too, had his nerves, steeled to danger in its most ful shape during the recent fray, didn't him now. But not for an instant, at the new and horrible form of the peril, thus suddenly confronted him at the very moment of his fancied escape all his danger; just when he was in his good resolves for a tranquil future, or before had he encountered this desperate foe ster; but he knew its nature and habits well: for he had often heard Arab of the river tell of their encounters with dreadful stories over; and he therefore understood which way the path of safety lay. He saw the greedy monster to approach, with lengths of him—simply floating him self surface of the water, and a wary eye to every movement of his adversary. The knew would be speedy and certain, if he waited until he could see the very jaws of its hungry eye—then dived down under it, his dagger bare in his right hand.

The moment after, the huge bulk of crocodile seemed convulsed with a pang as it abruptly twisted itself round ing the water into foam with its tail and snapping his jaws fiercely around while its snaky eye darted flashes of fire. Then it sullenly sunk under the water to the calm moonlight, shone on the spot, ripples showing to form of diminishing circles agitated surface. But the body of the crocodile had sunk was discolored with a red stain, which showed the Syrian's dag found a vulnerable spot. He had dived beneath the scaly armor which protected them above, and struck with unerring Next moment the man rose again to the face, twenty yards further down stream struck out vigorously for the shore, but durient seized and bore him still deeper down. Nature's Remedy

A Valuable Compound Extract of Roots, Herbs and Barks, containing the Medicinal Properties of those Remedies which are Universally Acknowledged to be the Most Reliable and Effectual Known for the Purification of the Blood, and the Cure of all Chronic Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Urinary Organs, Female Complaints, Humors, Tumors, Cancer, Salt Rheum, Pimples and Humors on the Face, Ulcers, Coughs, and all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, Piles, Headache, Dizziness, Nervousness, Universal Prostration, Female Weakness, Pain in the Side, Back, Kidneys, Complaints, and General Debility.

This preparation is a complete and thorough purifier and alterative, and will positively cure all diseases of the human system, from whatever cause they may arise. It is the great remedy which we have been compelled to recommend to the public, after having tried in vain for years to find some remedy which would cure the many diseases to which we are subject. Many of the most eminent Physicians are using the VEGETINE in their practice, and are prescribing it in preference to any other remedy known to the profession. Many of the most popular Clergymen are using the VEGETINE, and recommending it to their friends and parishioners. Many of the most prominent Statesmen, Lawyers, Merchants, Editors, Actors, Actresses, Singers, Musicians, Mechanics, Farmers, Sailors, Soldiers, Mothers, Housekeepers, and Ladies in every walk of life, are using the VEGETINE, and recommending it to their friends and neighbors. Why is this? Because they have been cured by it, and know that it is the best Blood Purifier and Strength Restorer in the world.

A CASE OF INFLAMMATION OF KIDNEY AND GRAVEL.

From Messrs. Peacock & Co

Glasgow, March 1, 1869.

DEAR SIR—About two years ago I was troubled with inflammation of the kidneys and gravel, and after trying a number of remedies without getting relief, I was induced to try your Extract Buchu, and before I had used one bottle I found relief, and by the time I had used two bottles I was entirely cured. I am quite sure that if you publish this it will be the means of doing much good to others afflicted as I was, for I have been thankful to you ever since for the benefit I received from your Extract Buchu, which I commence to use for myself and family, and can say that I have not used a dose of Pain Killer or Cholera Mixture for the last two years. I am, dear Sir, yours truly,

SAVANNAH, Tenn., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. HELMBOLD.

DEAR SIR—We introduced your Fluid Extract Buchu into this country about eight months ago, and are happy to say it is meeting with the most unprecedented favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A merchant in our county named A. B. Terrell, has been authorizing Buchu five years with general success, and a week ago he bought one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he had gone through with one bottle he passed a gravel stone, which measured one inch in length, and is now in our office. Respectfully yours,

JOHN STANDLEY.

DEAR SIR—I commenced taking your Extract Buchu about two months ago, for a severe affection of the Bladder and Kidneys, and before I had used one bottle I passed a stone the size of a buckshot, and have been entirely relieved from pain. I had been afflicted in this way for about two years, and had tried many remedies without receiving any benefit. I have recommended your Buchu to several persons since I commenced using it, and they have all been benefited by it. You are at liberty to use my name in any way you please. Yours truly,

JAMES MACKAY.

CURE OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER AFFECTION OF A PATIENT SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE.

Thanks to Mr Helmbold.

Extract Buchu, Mercurial, Syphilitic, Scrofulous Humors, Erysipelas, Carbuncles, Salt Rheum, Pimples and Humors on the Face, Ulcers, Coughs, and all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, Piles, Headache, Dizziness, Nervousness, Universal Prostration, Female Weakness, Pain in the Side, Back, Kidneys, Complaints, and General Debility.

This preparation is a complete and thorough purifier and alterative, and will positively cure all diseases of the human system, from whatever cause they may arise. It is the great remedy which we have been compelled to recommend to the public, after having tried in vain for years to find some remedy which would cure the many diseases to which we are subject. Many of the most eminent Physicians are using the VEGETINE in their practice, and are prescribing it in preference to any other remedy known to the profession. Many of the most popular Clergymen are using the VEGETINE, and recommending it to their friends and parishioners. Many of the most prominent Statesmen, Lawyers, Merchants, Editors, Actors, Actresses, Singers, Musicians, Mechanics, Farmers, Sailors, Soldiers, Mothers, Housekeepers, and Ladies in every walk of life, are using the VEGETINE, and recommending it to their friends and neighbors. Why is this? Because they have been cured by it, and know that it is the best Blood Purifier and Strength Restorer in the world.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

A CASE OF INFLAMMATION OF KIDNEY AND GRAVEL.

From Messrs. Peacock & Co

Glasgow, March 1, 1869.

DEAR SIR—About two years ago I was troubled with inflammation of the kidneys and gravel, and after trying a number of remedies without getting relief, I was induced to try your Extract Buchu, and before I had used one bottle I found relief, and by the time I had used two bottles I was entirely cured. I am quite sure that if you publish this it will be the means of doing much good to others afflicted as I was, for I have been thankful to you ever since for the benefit I received from your Extract Buchu, which I commence to use for myself and family, and can say that I have not used a dose of Pain Killer or Cholera Mixture for the last two years. I am, dear Sir, yours truly,

JAMES MACKAY.

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

Is a Pharmaceutical Preparation. The proper menstruum to be given, and in the proportion in which it is to be used, to obtain as fully as possible the entire active principles for which this article is recommended by the Proprietor. The pleasant taste and odor, free from all nauseous or objectionable qualities, and its adaptation to the combination of other remedies recommended by the Proprietor, as the Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, Improved Compound Fluid Extract of Buchu and Iodide of Potassium, Improved Fluid Extract of Buchu and Improved Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla, and the Preparations of Buchu or Iron, are Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusible, and somewhat aromatic; its taste bitterish, mucilaginous, and analogous to that of mint. It is chiefly in compliaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, and mild irritation of the Bladder and Prostate, that the Preparations of Buchu and Iodide of Potassium are recommended, in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.

It is also recommended in Impurities of the Blood, and in Constitutions of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts connected in its evacuation. It is also recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.
